I have some GREAT news for those planning to attend the pre-conference workshop on Thursday! Not only will you learn some great strategies from the leaders in the industry, but you will also receive a FREE lunch provided by Bedford St. Martin's and Scholastic. This will be great for everyone, so no one has to fight the busy traffic in the area!

In addition, the deadline to reserve your room at the discounted rate has been EXTENDED. The Hilton has graciously given us until September 25, 2007 to reserve our rooms. Take advantage of this and stay at the Hilton. Trust me, the conference is much more enjoyable when one is staying directly at the venue.

I'm attaching another copy of the conference preview (though my network facilitator will probably kill me for it). PLEASE plan to attend the conference this year. I promise, you'll have an AMAZING time. Getting together with colleagues from around the state and attending break-out sessions (and wine and cheese socials!) truly rejuvenates teachers. You will not regret spending the money....I guarantee it!

I hope to see all of you next month!!
